NEW BEDFORD

"One of the Most Interesting Cities in America"

COMPILED BY H. A. MANNING COMPANY, WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF THE NEW BEDFORD BOARD OF COMMERCE

The publishers of this Directory consider it advisable and desirable to set forth the following paragraphs, in as simple and attractive a manner as possible, to enable the readers of these descriptive pages to comprehend as many of the outstanding features of New Bedford as limited space permits. The local resident, the visitor, and the distant reader about New Bedford wish to gain an impression of New Bedford as well as to have at hand a statistical reference regarding the city and its people. It is the publisher's aim to portray as much of New Bedford's charm and greatness as is consistent with facts. We believe with John Cotton Dana, the great librarian, that "Good citizenship springs from a knowledge about one's own community." The teachings of the City Map and the City Directory about localities, districts, street locations, street changes, growth of sections and general city changes are of great importance to property owners, old residents, new residents, and school pupils. Racial characteristics of names in the Directory enable the consultant to gain a very comprehensive knowledge of the inhabitants of the city and many other educational facts. Notable men all through history have contributed their philosophy on the value of knowledge about the home town. Here is one from Abraham Lincoln; "I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives. I like to see a man live so that his place will be proud of him." In studying the following, remember that the New Bedford City Directory disseminates this information far and wide where this Directory represents New Bedford in the Free Directory Library Exchange System of North America. The New Bedford City Directory, with over 1,000 closely printed pages, is the City of New Bedford in book-form; its family and social life, business and industrial life, is portrayed in great detail. The publishers invite and accept constructive criticism and suggestions for the improvement of the Directory for the benefit of New Bedford and all interested.

LOCATION—Symtomatic of its location New Bedford is called "The Gateway to Cape Cod." It is also known as "The Whaling City." Both of these cognomens are very apt as they pertain to its location as well as its character. As a gateway to the most delightful old region in America—Cape Cod, it is so situated that it is the "capital" of this summer land. The location at the northwest end of Buzzard's Bay early appealed to seafaring folk who have forever attached the name of their calling to the city. Because of its geographical location and many other advantages New Bedford is the logical place for both the tourist and traveller to make their headquarters if they desire to visit the industrial centers or the various shore and inland resorts of Southern New England. Boston is 56 miles, New York City 210, Providence 31, Fall River 13, Worcester 79, Provincetown 89, Springfield 111, Schenectady 221, Buffalo 486, Chicago 1,034, Montreal 379, Concord 134, Bangor 289, Burlington 285, Philadelphia 308, Washington 443.

TOPOGRAPHY—New Bedford is most beautifully situated on Buzzards Bay and the remarkable sea coast country adjacent to Cape Cod. It covers an area of 19.39 square miles, and is an average of 60 feet elevation above sea level within the city limits. The city has a perfect drainage because of the rising ground from the harbor to the resident sections of the city. To the north the terrain is rolling and ideal for residence; to the west it is level sea coast land; to the east begins the famous Cape Cod country. While there are no hills or mountains within the New Bedford district, the country has its charm in the sea coast, the beaches, the pleasant drives through woods and by lakes. It is a most pleasant section in which to live. The city is elongated in its measure, with a length of ten miles and width of two and one half miles. Acushnet Avenue is the longest lateral street of eight and one half miles, more than six miles of it devoted to business. Kempton Street is the longest cross street, of one and three fourths miles; this street continues into a through way to Fall River and the west. Ashley Boulevard takes part of the traffic of Acushnet Avenue entering from the north and cutting through to the central section of the city for two and three fourths miles, facilitates to eliminate congestion of traffic in the down town sections. The extreme lower end of the city extends into a peninsula of one and one half miles in length, ending in Fort Rodman. To the west of this peninsula is Clark's Cove and to the east is the Acushnet River which forms the main channel of the harbor and here enters into Buzzards Bay.

VIEW LOWER SECTION CITY OF NEW BEDFORD

HISTORICAL—The history of New Bedford is replete with interesting facts about its past. It is a city with a glorious past, a great present, and a promising future. Here in this city was enacted one of the greatest romances of modern history—the whaling industry, the only complete record of the birth, life and death of a great industry. Of the total number of 554 whaling ships afloat in 1839, 177 were from New Bedford and 44 from Fairhaven; 221 from this port of 21.8% of total ships. There are probably more legends connected with New Bedford than any city in America. New Bedford always did things. They say that fathers used to give whales to their daughters for wedding doweries, and portions for their nieces with a few porpoises apiece, and that there were reservoirs of oil in every house, and every night they recklessly burned their lengths in spermacetti candles. Much has been written about Old Time New Bedford that it would be impossible to touch upon in this brief paragraph. There is little doubt that New Bedford was founded and made famous by men of great worth and bravery.

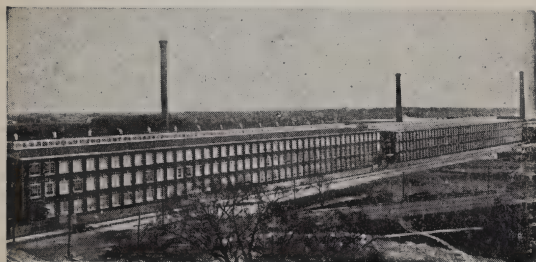

A POPULAR HOTEL

"The brave houses and flowery gardens came from the Atlantic, Pacific and Indian Oceans. One and all they were harpooned and dragged up hither from the bottom of the sea." There are many monuments to these times scattered about New Bedford. There is the Mariners Home on Johnny Cake Hill; Seamen's Bethel next door, where you will see the unique Cenotaphs to the Sea Dead; here, also, you will see the tablet dedicated to the memory of Captain George Fred Tilton, the most picturesque of our whaling captains; the whaling museum of the Old Dartmouth Historical Society on Johnny Cake Hill, contains a hump-backed whale skeleton, the Lagoda, the largest whale ship model in the world and on the surrounding walls are displayed a large variety of whale irons; there are Figure Heads taken from the prows of by-gone ships, and stern boards showing the craftsmanship of the old shipbuilders; also examples of the old shops that carried on trade in this city during the whaling era; in the public library will be found a wealth of material on the whaling era. In the City Hall the oldest continuous meteorological records in the United States are kept; the Old Friends Meeting House is the first meeting house for religious purposes erected in the city and still in use; there are many beautiful old homes of the whaling era in New Bedford and they add much to the charm of the city; this from Herman Melville's story, "Moby Dick": "The town itself is perhaps the dearest place to live in in all New England. . . Nowhere in all America will you find more patrician-like houses, parks and gardens more opulent than in New Bedford." New Bedford, however, is more than a city of the past, it is alive and teeming with modern history. It is making history today just as truly as it did years ago. It has been transformed into a commercial, financial, industrial and residential city with all that implies.

POPULATION—The growth of New Bedford has been on an upward trend for many years, with temporary set backs it has grown from 3,313 in 1790 to 121,217 in 1920. Since 1920, owing to the present depression of business there has been a loss and the 1930 census gave 112,597 as the correct population. In 1939 the Assessors of New Bedford estimated a population of 111,521. The publishers of this Directory estimate present population as 115,000, this is based on the number of families and the number of names appearing in the Directory. Growth shown as follows since 1790 when it was 3,313; 1800, 4,361; 1810, 5,651; 1830, 7,592; 1850, 16,443; 1870, 21,320; 1890, 40,733; 1900, 62,442; 1910, 96,652; 1920, 121,217; 1930, 112,597. In 1940 the white population of age was 51,100 males and 54,827 females; total colored population, 4,297. Total number of males, 53,401; females 56,940. 69% American born. Predominating nationalities are English, French, Portuguese, Polish, Armenian, German, and Italian descent. Population of contiguous territory to New Bedford is about 25,000; population within 8 miles of City Hall, 140,000; population within 75 miles, 5,000,000. In New Bedford there are 27,920 families, with 9,465 owning their own homes and 17,936 tenant families. In 1942 the Assessors of New Bedford estimated a population of 113,614.

INDUSTRIAL—During the decline of the whaling industry New Bedford turned its attention to other pursuits, and proved eventually to be just the place for the development of the manufacture of fine cotton goods and is today the leader in production of this commodity. It also produces large quantities of cotton and silk dress goods, cotton and rayon cloths, fine cotton and rayon yarns, blankets, sheets, pillow cases, etc. There is also manufactured here the following: fine tools, twist drills, screws, dies, cut glass, shirts, underwear, overalls, suits, cloth caps, shoes, paper goods, boxes, sheet copper and brass, soap, mechanical and steam toys, electrical devices, refined oils, cotton banding and webbing, tire fabrics, eyelets, sails, boat building, fisheries, automobile bodies, automobile tops, awnings and tents, carbonated beverages, fermented beverages, boilers, dairy products, go-carts, chemicals, cigars, men's trousers, concrete blocks, confectionery, rope, cordage and twine, ale, beer, prepared foods, ice cream, ladders, looms, machinery, mattresses, proprietary medicines, pickles, plating, wood screws, canned fruits and vegetables, pajamas, etc. New Bedford is particularly well adapted to manufacture and has a large and well trained labor market. There is over 3,000,000 square feet of floor space available for manufacturing. There are over 25,000 workers with living costs favorable to industries. Labor troubles are at a minimum here. All the factors are favorable to the future of industrial New Bedford. Stocks and bonds of 26 of the New Bedford's industries are listed on the stock exchanges. It is one of the largest yachting and fishing centers on the coast. Within 400 miles of New Bedford is a manufacturers market of over 30,000,000 population.

COMMERCIAL—New Bedford has a trading area of over 50 miles and serves in winter a population of nearly one quarter million, in summer the population is greatly increased by summer residents when it is at times nearer to one half million. The wholesale population exceeds 400,000. There are three distinct trading centers in New Bedford. The main and principle trading center is near the heart of the city and consists of a well built and attractive business section with about three miles of store frontage; the south end has an extensive business section of perhaps two miles of stores and the north end about the same. There is a total store frontage of over eight miles. There are 1892 retail stores doing an annual business of $40,061,000, representing distribution of 17 major products, with 1,890 officials and proprietors, employment is given to 5,609 who are paid annually wages of $5,816,905. The city is served by the Union Street Railroad Company, which is supplemented by an extensive bus service. Highways diverge to the north, northeast, west and east along the coast and route numbers U. S. 6 and State 140 are very fine highways. Motor truck service is also extensive. Two large modern piers are available for ocean shipping. The Greene & Wood Wharf is 425 feet long with 24 feet of water on the north side and end. It has large storage and transit shed. The State Pier is 750 feet long with 30 foot draft. These piers have rail connections and all modern conveniences for the handling of traffic. Tri-weekly freight and passenger steamship service is operated during the summer months to and from New York. CIVIC ACTIVITIES

The history of a community has been written in many ways but no effort or publication can mirror a more complete, comprehensive and accessible story than your City Directory.

Within its covers, with the cooperation of the organizations shown on the following pages, the publishers present a pictorial and informational display of this community's activities.

Such organizations are as necessary as commercial and industrial plants since they promote the spiritual, charitable, social, health and service duties which make this a greater city. Without them there would be no community life and civic betterment.

With these pages, they take an important part in the yearly recording of your city's history so that the people may visualize and appreciate their purposes and use and join in their activities.

Information about other organizations may be found by turning to the Index to Contents

NEW BEDFORD PORT SOCIETY

SEAMEN'S BETHEL AND MARINER'S HOME

REV. CHARLES S. THURBER, Chaplain

THE SEAMEN'S BETHEL was built in 1832 as a church for whalemen in New Bedford and has been preserved as a fitting reminder of those early days. In Herman Melville's immortal "Moby Dick" he starts his voyage after a visit to the Bethel. The marble cenotaphs on the walls are in memory of those lost at sea.

THE MARINER'S HOME built in 1787 as a private house was later moved next to the Bethel to serve as a real home for sailors in New Bedford.

THE NEW BEDFORD PORT SOCIETY organized in 1830 has continuously since that time cared for these buildings which are dedicated to the religious and economic welfare of SEAMEN and their FAMILIES.

SERVICES in the Bethel Sunday at 2:30 p. m. Sermon by the chaplain.

Churches

The Churches of New Bedford and Fairhaven are a BULWARK to uphold and promote all that is for the good of New Bedford.

Their doors are open in invitation to come and learn, to fortify against the everyday tendency to wear down the resistance of good character, honesty, integrity, and dependability.

These are the things your country, and the world needs today. These are the things that are being assailed by strong and unseen forces.

The church of today is an emmissary of goodwill. It is the FOUNDATION of the firm rock of right thinking and right living.

It offers guidance to all, is reaching out a friendly hand with all the patience of a father to a child. We all need the Church. The Church needs you, but you need the Church more.

"It is the mission of the Church to proclaim the gospel to all mankind exalting the worship of the one true God, and laboring for the progress of knowledge, the promotion of justice, the reign of peace, and the realization of brotherhood, depending as did our forefathers upon the continued guidance of the Holy Spirit to lead us into all Truth."

The Churches of New Bedford invite all to spend an hour a week refreshing their minds and hearts for strength to conquer for the right.

You are not only talking to all persons looking for goods in your line, but you are backing up all the other advertising you are doing or have done. Many times every day people are looking you up in the directory who have seen your advertisement elsewhere. The representation in the directory is your closing argument—should it be WEAK? Industrial New Bedford

New Bedford has a very interesting history as an industrial city. Of course we must begin with the whaling industry that centered in New Bedford many years ago. The decline of this industry made it necessary for New Bedford people to look to other pursuits for a livelihood. Intensively it carried on the searching the seven oceans of the world for whales and bringing back to New Bedford their precious cargoes of oil and by-products. It is a recorded fact that this industry brought wealth to this city and established it as a home of capital.

The development of the textile industry here was brought about by the circumstance of accumulated capital plus men of energy and vision. Also the location was right for the development of an industry and the gathering of workers to learn how to do it better than in any other place. New Bedford grew into the center of fine cottons, and for many years has been the center of the spot cotton market of the north.

Today New Bedford is particularly well adapted to manufacture with over 3,000,000 feet of floor space available for that purpose. There are 25,000 skilled workers, with living costs favorable to competition with any section in the United States. All the factors are favorable to the future of Industrial New Bedford. Stocks and bonds of 26 of New Bedford's industries are listed on the stock exchanges, a particularly significant showing. It is one of the large yachting and fishing centers on the Atlantic seaboard. Within 400 miles of New Bedford is a manufacturers' market of nearly 30,000,000 population.

Some of the products made in New Bedford include such as: Large quantities of cotton and silk dress goods, cotton and rayon cloths, fine cotton and rayon yarns, blankets, sheets, pillow cases, etc. Also fine tools, twist drills, screws, dies, cut glass, shirts, underwear, overalls, suits, cloth caps, shoes, paper goods and boxes, sheet copper and brass, soap, mechanical and steam toys, electrical devices, refined oils, cotton banding and webbing, tire fabrics, eyelets, sails, boat building, fisheries, automobile bodies, automobile tops, awnings and tents, carbonated beverages, fermented beverages, boilers, dairy products, go-carts, chemicals, cigars, men's trousers, concrete blocks, confectionery, rope, cordage and twine, fertilizers, prepared foods, ice cream, ladders, looms, machinery, mattresses, proprietary medicines, pickles, plating, wood screws, canned fruits and vegetables, pajamas, etc.

Across the harbor in Fairhaven are some substantial industries producing boats, yachts, marine railways, marine construction, tacks, nails, eyelets, castings, loom cranks, machinery, ice cream, insect screens, oil refining, sails, toilet preparations, etc.

Much available land for industrial building sites remain, with railroad sidings easy to procure. Railroad spur tracks serve New Bedford well and also connect with tide water. Harbor front sites are available for both rail and water shipping. There are 24 wharves in New Bedford and Fairhaven available to manufacturers.

THE BEST ADVERTISING MEDIUM IS THE

CITY DIRECTORY

Because It Is Used The Most To Find Just Such Information You Most Wish To Have The Public Know

FIRST—What line of goods you handle. SECOND—where you are located. Pick up a City Directory anywhere, and almost invariably you can tell who the progressive, up-to-date merchants and professional men are. There are many brands of clothing, shoes, dry goods, groceries, etc. and some prefer one kind, some another. What better place to state your special brands than in the City Directory?
